PLEASE PROTECT HĀ'ENA STATE PARK

(Hā'ena State Park includes: the Kalalau Trail/Hanakāpī'ai Falls/Kē'e Beach)

To protect cultural and natural resources from overuse, Hā'ena State Park is now subject to daily visitor limits and requires advanced reservations to enter the park. Please observe the following practices:

◆ PLEASE AVOID DRIVING TO HĀ'ENA STATE PARK WITHOUT AN ADVANCE RESERVATION AND PERMIT. Vehicles without a reservation and permit will be kindly asked to turn around. Please visit <https://www.gohaena.com/> for more information, and note that there is no cellular reception at Hā'ena State Park, so reservations must be made in advance.

- Parking at Hā'ena State Park is extremely limited, and requires advance reservations and a permit.
- Presently no overnight parking is allowed at the Hā'ena State Park parking lot.
- Walk-ins also require a permit reserved in advance of your visit.

Parking Lot
& Shuttle

A “no parking” zone has been established between Hā’ena Place and Kē’ē Beach (the end of the road). Parking along Kūhiō Highway in this zone is a violation of Chapter 291C-111 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. Violators will be fined up to $200.

Access to Hā’ena State Park, including the Nāpali Coast State Wilderness Park and Kalalau Trail, is by permit. Visit <http://gohaena.com> for:

- Park Entry
- Parking Reservations

Overnight parking is not allowed at Hā’ena State Park. This includes parties camping at the Nāpali Coast State Wilderness Park. Please make arrangements for drop off or pick up in advance. Note there is no cell phone reception at Hā’ena State Park.

Reserved parking is extremely limited in Hā’ena. Vehicles without permits will be turned around. If reserved parking is not available on your preferred dates, the park can also be accessed via the North Shore Shuttle. Visit <https://kauaiNSshuttle.com> for details.

Drive cautiously throughout the island and observe posted speed limits. You must share the road safely with bicycles, pets, and pedestrians. There are many one lane bridges on Kaua’i. Be advised that local practice is to allow 5-7 vehicles to cross before yielding to traffic approaching from the opposite direction.
